Britain

Concert Tours With Integrity

Trafalgar Square

An Exclusive Concert Series

Great Britain offers American performing groups the widest possible range of performance possibilities, including cathedrals, parish churches, music colleges, community centers, pavilions, concert halls, and theaters.

Many American traditions of government, justice, religion, the arts (especially literature and music) have their roots in Britain. A journey to Britain is a discovery of our own past and this experience is enhanced by the sharing of music with appreciative audiences. A shared concert with local orchestras, choirs, brass bands, and wind ensembles is recommended as part of the American Celebration of Music in Britain.

Great Britain has a long history that has created traditions that will stand forever, but one notices a great forward-looking optimism in this land of Shakespeare, Milton, Dickens, Churchill, the Windsors, the Beatles, and the late Princess Diana.

Select American groups are invited to share their talents in the very surroundings where Benjamin Britten, Gustav Holst, Ralph Vaughan Williams, Edward Elgar, Hubert Parry, William Byrd, and numerous other famous composers shared theirs.

“This was a trip that created life-long memories for our students and gave them opportunities and experiences that helped them grow as musicians. The performances were a definite highlight, especially Southwark Cathedral in London – a wonderful, outstanding venue, with a full house. Emotions ran high with the students! All of the MCI team was helpful, professional, and very flexible. We appreciated how they were able to help us with any of our questions, and they guided us through any problems we ran into. “
