Music Celebrations International
Concert Tours With Integrity

St. Paul of Piraeus

An Exclusive Concert Series

Greece is a country of immense interests, diverse cultures, and tremendous history. The people, literature, art, architecture, politics, music, traditions, language, beliefs, food, and customs- the history of all these aspects of Greece at once dominated the known world, and to this day still fascinate the imagination. The people of Greece speak of their country with intense passion, born from a great pride in this history.

Music is an integral part of Greek culture, and is as rich in diversity as its history. Greek music may best be broadly categorized by its traditional folk music, and by the music of the Byzantine period. Derived from ancient times, traditional Greek music is highly expressive and melodious, and in many ways originated as accompaniment to Greek theater. Greek music from Byzantine times was associated with the sacred chants of Christianity, and is distinguished by its modality.

Imagine your group performing at one of the great archaeological sites of Ancient Greece! Many churches, cathedrals, theaters and concert halls also await visiting ensembles that participate in the American Celebration of Music!

"The tour was great! The orchestra and their families who participated in the tour all had a really good time in Greece. I am looking forward to planning for our next tour!"

Rocky Lee, Director
South Coast Youth Symphony
Orchestra

"The hotels were great, the food was fantastic, and the performances were amazing! The highlights are always the musical ones. When Caliente processed down the aisle in St. Andrews in Patras, while singing our Navajo prayer, it was as if the angels had sung. "Now I walk in beauty. Beauty is before me. Beauty is behind me, above and below me." It was my musical highlight."

Virginia Nickels-Hircock, Director
Caliente Community Chorus
