

American Celebration of Music in Canada Toronto, Ontario

Toronto is the largest of Canada's vibrant urban cities. It is the hub of the nation's commercial, financial, industrial, and cultural life, and is the capital of the Province of Ontario. The city dates back to 1793, when the British founded the Town of York on what then was the Upper Canadian frontier. That backwoods village grew to become the city of Toronto in 1834, and through its subsequent evolution and expansion Toronto has emerged as one of the most liveable and multicultural urban places in the world today.

The American Celebrations of Music is a special annual performance-tour program, co-sponsored by local governments, music associations, community organizations, and tourist boards around the globe. In many countries this has developed into a prestigious, recognized, year-long concert-series festival. Recognition of this festival facilitates greater access to performance venues, official publicity, generally very successful concert arrangements, and the ability to touch local cultures in a way that may not be done through other affiliations. This equates to more meaningful musical and emotional experiences for participating performance ensembles.

The cultural ties between Canada and the United States are strong. Concerts by visiting American groups and other events serve to strengthen those bonds that celebrate our collaboration dating back to the American Revolutionary War and extending up to present day - not only military but also economic cooperation. The influences of both the United States and Europe blend together in a fascinating cultural tapestry that provides your performing group with a tour filled with lasting memories.

Your concert tour will truly be enriched with the surroundings of history, architecture, and beauty that is best experienced "first hand." Participation in the American Celebration of Music in Canada can make this happen for you and your touring ensemble!
